January 20, 2026, will mark a significant change in the history of the Bharatiya Janata Party. 45-year-old Nitin Naveen is almost certain to be elected unopposed as the party's next national president. However, a surprising aspect of this election is that for the first time, party founding members Lal Krishna Advani and Murli Manohar Joshi will not be able to cast their votes. Nitin Naveen, who has been serving as the party's working president since December 2025, is now set to become the full-time president. Nitin Naveen, a MLA from Bankipur in Bihar and a former minister, is the son of veteran BJP leader, the late Naveen Kishore Prasad Sinha. Naveen, who comes from an RSS background, is known for his deep connections within the organization and his significant role in the party's electoral victories in states like Chhattisgarh. His nomination will be filed on January 19, and his victory will be formally announced on January 20. Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Amit Shah, and Rajnath Singh will be among the proposers for his nomination. This is the first time since the BJP's founding in 1980 that the names of these two stalwarts are not on the voters' list for the presidential election. The reason behind this is not political dissent, but rather technical.

NIA chargesheets five for propagating ideologies of banned terror outfit online

New Delhi, Agency: The National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Saturday charged five persons, including a woman, in a case relating to online radicalisation of vulnerable youth by terror group Al-Qaeda in the Indian Subcontinent (AQIS) in Gujarat.

The National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Saturday charged five persons, including a woman, in a case relating to online radicalisation of vulnerable youth by terror group Al-Qaeda in the Indian Subcontinent (AQIS) in Gujarat.

The accused — identified as Mohammad Fardeen, Kureshi Sefulla, Mohammad Faique, Zeeshan Ali and Shama Parveen — have been named in the charge sheet filed before a special NIA court in Ahmedabad, officials said.

NIA's investigation in the case had revealed that the accused used social media platforms for propagating, supporting and disseminating the anti-India ideologies of the banned AQIS, a statement issued by the probe agency said. They posted provocative posts, including videos, audios and photos, through various social media accounts, it said.

NIA further found that, through these posts, the accused had called for armed revolt against the democratically elected Indian government, and for the establishment of the Caliphate based on the Sharia law, the statement alleged. They also promoted the extremist ideologies of other proscribed terror organisations to radicalise gullible youth, it said. NIA, which had taken over the investigation from ATS Gujarat, had seized various incriminating materials, in both paper and digital formats, along with deadly weapons like semi-automatic pistol with cartridges and a sword from two of the five accused in the course of the investigation. The NIA, during investigation, further traced the digital footprints and identified incriminating posts strengthening evidence against the accused.

Calling the result a "historic win," Ranaut told NDTV, "I am absolutely thrilled with the BJP's landslide victory in the Maharashtra BMC election. I congratulate Prime Minister Narendra Modi ji, Maharashtra Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis ji, and the entire BJP family of Maharashtra for this incredible saffron sweep all the way."

19 Bills pending in Rajya Sabha, oldest dates back to 1992

New Delhi, Agency: As many as 19 government Bills remain pending in the Rajya Sabha, with the oldest, pertaining to population control, dating back to 1992.

The Rajya Sabha is a permanent House which is never dissolved, with one-third of its members retiring every two years. While the Bills pending in the Lok Sabha lapse when the House is dissolved, a Bill pending in the Rajya Sabha never lapses. According to a bulletin of the Upper House, there are 19 pending Bills at present, the oldest being The Constitution (Seventy-ninth Amendment) Bill, 1992. The Bill proposed to amend the Directive Principles of State Policy to provide that the State shall promote population control and the small family norm, and to include promoting and adopting the small family norm in the Fundamental Duties. It also proposed that an MP or an MLA should be disqualified if they have more than two children.

Also among the pending Bills is The Delhi Rent (Amendment) Bill, 1997, which was to amend the Delhi Rent Act, 1995 that aimed to modernise rent control laws, but faced significant pushback from tenant and landlord groups. While the government is working on bringing The Seed Bill 2025, among the pending Bills is The Seeds Bill, 2004, which aimed to regulate the quality of seeds for sale, import and export and to facilitate the production and supply of quality seeds.

Another Bill that remains pending is The Inter-State Migrant Workmen (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Amendment Bill, 2011, which was introduced when Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge was the labour minister.

Other pending Bills which were introduced in the UPA 2 include The Building and Other Construction Workers Related Laws (Amendment) Bill, 2013; The Employment Exchanges (Compulsory Notification of Vacancies) Amendment Bill, 2013; and The Readjustment of Representation of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes in Parliamentary and Assembly Constituencies (Third) Bill, 2013.

Acid attack on minor girl in Wayanad, neighbour arrested

New Delhi, Agency: A 14-year-old girl suffered severe burns after her neighbour allegedly attacked her with acid in Wayanad district in Kerala, the police said on Saturday.

The accused Raju Jose (53), a resident of Priyadarshi Unathi, Marakavu, Pulpalli, has been arrested.

According to police, the incident occurred on Friday evening when Jose allegedly poured acid on Mahalakshmi, a Class VIII student living in the neighbourhood.

The police said there were multiple issues between the neighbours that led to the incident.

The accused had recently asked the girl to give him her Student Police Cadet (SPC) uniform, which she refused.

The victim was first taken to a nearby government hospital and later shifted to Kozhikode Medical College Hospital for further treatment.

She suffered around 40 per cent burns, including injuries to her face, a police officer said.

The accused fled the scene after the attack but was arrested early Saturday morning.

He is being interrogated to ascertain the exact motive behind the attack, police said.

Priya Kapur files criminal defamation case against Sunjay Kapur's sister Mandhira Kapur

New Delhi, Agency: Priya Sachdeva Kapur has moved a criminal defamation complaint against Sunjay Kapur's sister, Mandhira Kapur Smith, and another individual, alleging that a series of statements made against her across podcasts, social media platforms, media interviews and republished online content constitute a sustained and deliberate campaign to damage her reputation.

The complaint, filed before the Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate, asserted that the impugned remarks contain false assertions, insinuations and personal attacks presented as established facts, despite the issues being sub judice, thereby causing serious reputational harm.

Priya Kapur is represented by senior advocate Maninder Singh, alongwith counsel Smriti Asmita. According to the complaint, the material circulating in the public domain advances misleading narratives and allegations aimed at maligning and harassing Priya Kapur through public discourse rather than lawful remedies.

Maninder Singh submitted that such conduct squarely attracts the offence of criminal defamation under the applicable law.

The matter was taken up before the Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate at the Patiala House Courts, New Delhi, where the complaint was formally registered. The filing of the defamation case follows recent developments in connected proceedings, in which the court sought a response from actor Karisma Kapoor on a plea moved by Priya Kapur seeking certified copies of divorce-related court records involving late

'On-paper' doctors, 'fake' work certificates: How Al Falah University misled regulators to get NMC approvals

New Delhi, Agency: Faridabad-based Al Falah University had appointed three doctors -- two arrested by the National Investigation Agency and the third an alleged suicide bomber of the November 2025 Red Fort area blast -- apart from other specialists without police verification or scrutiny, the Enforcement Directorate has found.

The agency, as part of its money laundering probe against the promoter of the university, is understood to have furnished statements of various senior executives and faculty of the varsity in this context in a chargesheet filed before a Delhi court on Friday. Arrested 61-year-old Al Falah Group chairman Jawad Ahmad Siddiqui and the Al Falah Charitable Trust that controls all the educational institutions of the varsity are the two accused named in the complaint filed under various sections of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA).

The about 260-page chargesheet seeks prosecution of Siddiqui and his Trust for alleged generation of illicit funds from fees paid by students, while allegedly misrepresenting the accreditation and recognition of his institutions.

In a statement issued worth about Rs 140 crore and located in the Dhauj area of Faridabad. The court is yet to take cognisance of the ED chargesheet. Quoting the ED chargesheet, officials told PTI that doctors at the medical college were employed "on paper" and were listed under a "22 days punch" or "two days per week" clause to be represented as regular faculty "just to obtain" requisite approvals from the National Medical Commission (NMC) so that the healthcare facility runs uninterrupted.

According to officials, the ED has recorded the statement of the Registrar of the University, who acknowledged the visit of probe agencies to the campus and the arrests of "Dr Muzammil and Dr Shaheen, associated with the University hospital."

He said in his statement that the doctors of the medical college, established in 2019, were hired "without" any police verification.

The Vice-Chancellor and Principal of the University told the ED that the doctors reported to be involved in terror-related activities -- Dr Muzammil Ganaie, a junior resident in general medicine department since October 2021; Dr Shaheen Saeed, an associate professor in pharmacology since October 2021, and Dr Umar Nabi, the alleged suicide bomber and an assistant professor in general medicine since May 2024 -- were appointed during her tenure.

She informed the agency that these appointments were, however, "recommended" by the varsity's HR head and "approved" by Siddiqui, following which she issued formal appointment letters.

Iran's turmoil and confrontation with America pose a serious challenge

Lalit Garg

Iran's recurring turmoil isn't simply the result of a single event, a single decision, or the outrage of a single generation; it's the culmination of the historical, ideological, and geopolitical structures that have shaped the country since the 1979 Islamic Revolution. Today, as street protests rage on social media, and Western analysts speculate about regime change, it's crucial to understand that Iran's crisis isn't simply a matter of internal discontent, but deeply intertwined with the global balance of power. Iran's internal turmoil and instability, along with its confrontation with the United States, are becoming a major source of war and global imbalance. The growing conflict between Iran and the United States is not merely a bilateral issue; its repercussions could impact the entire world. This conflict increases the risk of war in West Asia, which could directly impact global energy supplies and oil prices. Any instability in the Strait of Hormuz could disrupt international trade, increasing the risk of inflation and economic recession. Furthermore, this conflict could directly or indirectly draw regional countries into war, potentially exacerbating refugee crises, terrorism, and sectarian tensions. A confrontation between superpowers would further polarize world politics, weaken international cooperation, and replace peace with an atmosphere of distrust and military competition, ultimately resulting in the consequences for all of humanity. The 1979 Islamic Revolution in Iran not only ousted Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi and established a new government, but also created an ideological-political structure in which religion, politics, and the security apparatus were intertwined. Under the concept of "Wilayat-e-Faqih," ultimate political authority was vested in the supreme religious leadership. To preserve and expand this system, the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC) was established, which over time became not only a military force but also a center of economic, political, and ideological power. This is why Iran's system cannot be understood simply as a government or regime; it is a complete system, for which mere protests are not sufficient to remove it. Iran has witnessed several major popular movements over the past four decades. The 2009 Green Movement, the wave of economic discontent in 2017-18, the violent protests against fuel price hikes in 2019, and the calls for social freedoms in 2022—each time it was believed that the system might be toppled.

Editorial*Union-Chinese Communist Meeting

At BJP headquarters, a team led by party general secretary Arun Singh met with a delegation from the Communist Party of China (CPC). Clearly, some discussions took place. Later, a delegation led by Sun Haiyan, Deputy Minister of China's International Department, visited the RSS headquarters and met and held talks with Sarkaryavah (General Secretary) Dattatreya Hosabale. These meetings can neither be considered "courtesy" nor "diplomatic." Of course, publicly, the BJP and the RSS have been, more or less, ideologically opposed, even antagonistic. There was a period when India's Defense Minister called China "enemy number one." Indeed, China has a dictatorial "monopoly," while India is a fully democratic country. In our country, the President and Prime Minister are elected for five-year terms. The Chinese President can remain in office for as long as he wishes. Indeed, China has occupied more than 43,000 square kilometers of our land. Of this, approximately 38,000 square kilometers of territory was captured by China in the 1962 war, and Pakistan later "surrendered" 5,180 square kilometers to China. India and China have extremely serious and contentious disputes. Even the Mansarovar Yatra was banned before 2025. The military attack in Ladakh's Galwan Valley in June 2020, in which 20 brave Indian soldiers were martyred, can never be forgotten. It is a different matter that our soldiers later retaliated and killed 40-45 Chinese soldiers, but China has not acknowledged this reality to this day. The exact number is not known, but Indian soldiers certainly retaliated.

Mastering the Last Mile of JEE Main and Decoding NIT-IIT-GFTI Cut-offs

Prashant Jha

As the countdown to JEE Main enters its final phase, lakhs of aspirants across the country find themselves standing at a decisive crossroads. Months—often years—of disciplined study now converge into a handful of crucial days. These last moments are not about learning everything anew; they are about sharpening what you already know, managing pressure, and converting preparation into performance. Alongside strategy, another question dominates the minds of students and parents alike: What rank or percentile is needed to enter NITs, IITs, and GFTIs? Understanding last year's cut-offs offers both direction and realistic expectation. This mentor-style guide aims to do both—help you navigate the final days of JEE Main with clarity and provide a grounded overview of last year's cut-offs for premier government engineering institutions in India.

The Psychology of the Final Days: Calm is a Competitive Advantage In the final stretch before JEE Main, anxiety is natural, but panic is optional. Many students make the mistake of overloading themselves with new books, unsolved problem sets, and unfamiliar concepts. This often leads to confusion and loss of confidence. The truth is simple: your rank will improve more by clarity and composure than by cramming one extra chapter. A calm mind recalls formulas faster, avoids silly mistakes, and manages time better in the examination hall. The final days should therefore focus as much on mental discipline as on academic revision. Last Days Strategy for JEE Main: Subject-wise Mentor Advice

Physics: Precision Over Proliferation Physics in JEE Main is more about concepts than complexity. In the final days: Revise formula-based chapters such as Current Electricity, Capacitors, Modern Physics, Semiconductors, and Communication Systems. Focus on error analysis, units & dimensions, and graphs, which frequently yield direct questions. Avoid diving into new derivations or rare problem types now. Instead, re-solve previously attempted questions where you made mistakes. A well-revised Physics section can become a major score booster.

Chemistry: Your Rank Multiplier Chemistry remains the most scoring subject if revised intelligently. Inorganic Chemistry should be revised directly from NCERT—line by line. Questions are often factual and NCERT-based. Physical Chemistry needs formula revision and practice of standard numericals from topics like Mole Concept, Electrochemistry, Thermodynamics, and Chemical Kinetics. Organic Chemistry should focus on reaction mechanisms, name reactions, and common conversions. Avoid learning new reactions now; strengthen what you already know. Many top rankers credit Chemistry for stabilizing their percentile above 98.

Mathematics: Selective Strength, Not Complete Coverage

Mathematics can be time-consuming, so smart selection is key. Focus on high-weightage and familiar topics such as Matrices & Determinants, Vector & 3D Geometry, Probability, Statistics, Quadratic Equations, and Sequences & Series. Revise standard results, formulas, and shortcuts. Practice timed solving to avoid getting stuck on lengthy questions during the exam. Accuracy matters more than attempting all questions.

Mock Tests and Analysis: The Real Game-Changer

In the last 10–15 days, mock tests are not about testing knowledge—they are about refining strategy. Attempt mocks in the same time slot as your actual exam. Analyze each test deeply: identify silly mistakes, time traps, and weak areas. Decide your attempt order (which subject first) and stick to it. A student who improves mock analysis often outperforms another with higher theoretical knowledge but poor exam temperament.

The Day Before and Exam Day: Mentor's Golden Rules

Do light revision only a day before the exam—formulas, short notes, and NCERT highlights. Avoid discussing preparation with anxious peers. Sleep well; a fresh mind is more valuable than one extra hour of revision. On exam day, read questions carefully, avoid negative marking traps, and don't chase ego-driven attempts.

Understanding Last Year's Cut-offs: NITs, IITs, and GFTIs (Indicative) Cut-offs vary every year depending on difficulty level, number of candidates, and seat matrix. However, last year's trends provide a realistic benchmark. The following cut-offs are approximate based on previous JoSAA counselling trends and should be used for guidance, not as absolute guarantees. NIT Cut-offs (General Category – Home State / Other State)

Top NITs demand very high ranks:

NIT Trichy, Surathkal, Warangal (CSE): Closing ranks typically within 2,000 – 6,000

Top NITs (ECE, EE, Mechanical): Around 6,000 – 15,000

Mid-tier NITs (CSE): Around 10,000 – 25,000

Lower NIT branches: Seats may extend up to 40,000 – 60,000, especially under Home State quota A percentile above 99 significantly increases chances in top NITs, while 97–98 percentile keeps mid-tier NITs within reach.

IIT Cut-offs (IIT Hyderabad Excluded): IITs focus heavily on CSE, IT, and allied branches. IIT Allahabad, Bangalore, Gwalior (CSE): Around 6,000 – 12,000 Other IITs (CSE/IT): Around 15,000 – 30,000

Electronics & allied branches: Up to 40,000 – 55,000 IIT Hyderabad remains exceptional, with CSE closing well under 1,000 rank, and is not part of JoSAA counselling.

GFTIs Cut-offs: A Practical Opportunity Government Funded Technical Institutions often remain underestimated but offer solid infrastructure and placements.

Popular branches may close between 35,000 – 70,000 Some GFTIs and newer institutes extend admissions beyond 1,00,000 rank, depending on category and quota. For students with moderate ranks, GFTIs can be a strategic and respectable choice. Category-wise Advantage Students belonging to OBC-NCL, EWS, SC, and ST categories benefit from relaxed cut-offs, often extending opportunities by tens of thousands of ranks. However, preparation quality still determines branch and institute quality.

Percentile vs Rank: Clearing the Confusion Many aspirants misunderstand percentile. A 99 percentile does not mean 99 marks. It means you performed better than 99% of candidates. Depending on the session, a 99 percentile may correspond to different marks but usually ensures a rank within 10,000–12,000.

Beyond Cut-offs: Choosing Wisely A mentor's advice goes beyond chasing CSE at any cost: A good branch at a decent institute often outperforms a poor branch at a top institute in long-term satisfaction. Skills, internships, and self-learning matter immensely after college entry. Choose an institute where you can grow, not just survive. JEE Main is not the end—it is a gateway. Your discipline, clarity, and courage in these final days will define not just your rank, but your confidence going forward. Revise smartly, trust your preparation, and walk into the exam hall with belief.

Remember, ranks open doors—but it is you who must walk through them and build a future beyond numbers.

The state should also have its own sports institute*Bhupinder Singh

If a sports institute is established in Himachal Pradesh, it will not only help in making the players medal winners at the international level, but the country will also have a good training centre for the summer season...India has already secured its bid for the 2036 and 2030 Commonwealth Games, securing the Commonwealth Games in Ahmedabad. India is likely to win the 2036 Olympics as well.

Therefore, medal-winning performances in these Games are essential for the country's athletes. Himachal Pradesh, with its climate similar to that of Europe and America, should have a high-level sports institute for training, as our athletes often travel abroad, spending millions of rupees to train in better climates.

Policy also mentions a State Sports Institute. While world-class sports infrastructure has been established for many sports in Himachal Pradesh, a lack of trainers and other facilities has prevented the launch of such training programs. The lack of a sports culture is still evident in Himachal Pradesh. The three percent reservation in government jobs for Himachal athletes in the Sports Policy formulated during the Dhumal government is a significant gift. Now, two decades later, the new Sports Policy has been improved on various aspects. However, when faced with ground realities, it remains to be seen how effectively the government machinery and sports institutions can implement it. Participation of maximum number of people in sports should be ensured, by this when thousands of students will undergo fitness program then some good players will also be found among them. In the sports policy, for the medal winning performance of Himachali players at national and international level, maximum number of sports academies and sports wings in educational institutions have been asked to be opened in the state through government and sports associations keeping in view the facility of place and talent and in future there is also an intention to strengthen the sports infrastructure in the state through CRS from various big companies. It has also been said to arrange the facility of play field in rural areas through MNREGA. The level of various sports in Himachal Pradesh has not improved even after opening of sports hostels in the state. While Himachal Pradesh has occasionally been able to deliver good results thanks to a few passionate coaches, it has often lagged behind at the national level, barring a few sports. Whether in Himachal or any other state, the coach is often seen as the key player in achieving excellent performance. This is why the Indian Sports Ministry and several states are emphasizing the establishment of high-performance training centers and contracting coaches who can achieve excellent performance. Similar to the Khelo India, Gujarat, and Odisha training centers that have achieved high sports results, Himachal Pradesh should also establish more such high-performance centers and academies. Experienced coaches who have produced medal-winning performances at the international level should be contracted for five years, subject to the condition of achieving excellent performance, so that the children of Himachal Pradesh can also receive the same training facilities while living in Himachal Pradesh. Following the Central and Kerala governments, cash prizes and awards have been provided to coaches, just like athletes. You will take every student to the sports ground for fitness, and you will surely find some good players among them. After discovering talent, good sports facilities should be provided for training along with studies. For this, there should be a state sports institute on the lines of the National Sports Institute. If the government seems determined to do this, then it should be implemented soon. The sports institute should conduct long-term training camps for the players of Himachal Pradesh on a scientific basis, and there should be seminars and short-term training courses for the physical education teachers and former national and international players of the state.

WEF economists expect global economic conditions to weaken in 2026 over mounting debt, geopolitics

Davos, Agency: Around 53 per cent of World Economic Forum chief economists who were surveyed expect global economic conditions to weaken in the year ahead, down from 72 per cent in September 2025, even as they acknowledge the relative resilience of the global economy amid turbulence.

The global economic outlook has improved modestly but remains uncertain, with asset valuations, mounting debt, geoeconomic realignment and rapid artificial intelligence deployment creating both opportunities and risks, according to the World Economic Forum's latest Chief Economists' Outlook, published on January 16. Although 53 per cent of chief economists expect global economic conditions to weaken in the year ahead, this marks a significant improvement from the 72 per cent who held this view in September 2025.

Uncertainty around technology remains high, with 52 per cent expecting AI-related stocks to decline and 40 per cent expecting gains.

When it comes to the potential expected returns from AI, there is wide variation across regions and sectors. Roughly four in five chief economists expect productivity gains within two years in the US and China. Chief economists expect the information technology sector to adopt AI fastest, with nearly three-quarters anticipating imminent productivity gains. Financial services, supply chain, healthcare, engineering and retail follow as "fast-movers", with one to two-year timelines.

On growth, expectations diverge by region, with economists expecting strong momentum in South Asia and East Asia and weak to moderate growth in Europe.

On macroeconomics, nearly a third of respondents are concerned about sovereign debt crises in advanced economies and nearly half in emerging economies; over 60 per cent expect governments to rely on higher inflation and tax revenues to manage elevated debt.

"The Chief Economists survey reveals three defining trends for 2026: surging AI investment and its implications for the global economy; debt approaching critical thresholds with unprecedented shifts in fiscal and monetary policies; and trade realignments," said Saadia Zahidi, Managing Director, World Economic Forum.

By blending value theme with structured retirement planning, this fund offers to help customers weather through market cycles and build a dependable retirement corpus." This Index Pension Fund mirrors the BSE 500 Enhanced Value 50 Index, which filters stocks through strict liquidity mandates, requiring a top-450 ranking by annualized trade value and a 20% average daily turnover ratio. The strategy then selects 50 stocks with the highest 'value scores' based on three fundamental metrics: Book-to-Price, Earnings-to-Price, and Sales-to-Price ratios. Reconstituted quarterly to align with market dynamics, this strategy maintains a minimum 80% equity exposure. This ensures a transparent, disciplined approach to capturing value-led growth and long-term capital appreciation.

The Index Fund is well-balanced across India's strongest industries, led by major investments in the Financial and Energy sectors, alongside allocations to Commodities and Consumer Discretionary.

India-EU free trade agreement will be 'mother' of all deals, says Goyal

New Delhi, Agency: Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal on Friday said the free trade agreement between India and the 27-nation bloc EU, the negotiations for which are at the last leg, will be the "mother of all deals" the country has signed so far.

The conclusion of talks for the agreement is likely to be announced on January 27.

The president of the European Council, Antonio Luis Santos da Costa, and the President of the European Commission, Ursula von der Leyen, will be on a state visit to India from January 25-27. They are chief guests at the 77th Republic Day celebrations.

"I have done seven deals so far. All with developed economies. This one will be the mother of all," Goyal told mediapersons here.

"In sectors of India's interest, we are getting a super deal. In areas of EU interest also, we are giving them a super deal."

It has to be a win-win. The good part is we do not compete with each other. We have different interests," he added.

The NDA government has finalised seven trade pacts since 2014: Australia, the UK, Oman, New Zealand, the UAE, the EFTA bloc and Mauritius.

Before that, several pacts were implemented, and that includes with 10-nation ASEAN (Association of Southeast Asian nations) bloc, Japan, South Korea, Malaysia, SAFTA (South Asia Free Trade Agreement) and Singapore.

India's pact with the EU will be the biggest, as the bloc comprises 27 developed countries.

The EU bloc includes France, Germany, Spain, Italy, Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, Ireland, the Netherlands, Portugal, Poland, Denmark and Sweden.

He also said the bilateral trade between the two sides was reasonably balanced in goods and services.

It will open huge opportunities for growth, Goyal said, adding that India and the European Union (EU) complement each other and were not in competition.

Decisive battle in Indore, India-New Zealand ODI series final today

Agency, New Delhi

The three-match ODI series between India and New Zealand has reached a crucial stage. Both teams have won one match each in the first two encounters, leveling the series at 1-1. Now, the third and final ODI will be played on Sunday at the Holkar Stadium in Indore, where the series winner will be decided. Both teams have arrived in Indore and are preparing for the crucial match. The first ODI of the series was played in Vadodara, where India registered a strong start with a 4-wicket victory. However, New Zealand made a brilliant comeback in the second ODI, winning the match by 7 wickets in Rajkot. With this victory, the Kiwi team leveled the series and set the stage for the decider. Daryl Mitchell's performance was the biggest factor in New Zealand's victory in the second match. He played a superb unbeaten innings of 131 runs and shared a crucial 162-run partnership with Will Young, which made chasing the target of 285 runs easier. For the Indian team, the biggest concern remains the inconsistent performance of the batsmen. So far, the batting has not lived up to expectations, and better performance is expected from the top and middle order in the decisive match. On the other hand, the bowling, especially the spin department, is also under scrutiny. Indian spinners have failed to make an impact on home ground. In the second ODI, Kuldeep Yadav and Ravindra Jadeja proved expensive. Kuldeep conceded 82 runs in 10 overs for one wicket, while Jadeja gave away 44 runs in eight overs. Together, they conceded 126 runs in 18 overs, which proved costly for the team.

meningitis took hold of my brain. I was put into a medically induced coma for 8 days without my knowledge so I could fight this deadly disease, and I fought." He further stated that doctors had given him a 50-50 chance of survival. After coming out of the coma, he was unable to walk or speak, but within just four days, he not only started walking and talking but also surprised the doctors. He was

Controversy surrounds Babar Azam being prevented from taking a single

New Delhi: A moment of tension between Steve Smith and Babar Azam during the Sydney Derby played at the Sydney Cricket Ground in the Big Bash League has become a topic of discussion. In the 11th over of the Sydney Sixers' innings, Babar Azam wanted to take a single and change the strike, but captain Steve Smith, who was at the non-striker's end, refused. Following this decision, a conversation ensued between the two players on the pitch, and Babar's displeasure was clearly visible. After the match, Smith reacted to the entire incident, calling it a purely strategic decision. In a conversation with a channel, Smith said that the team management was asking him to play faster, but he wanted to stay on strike for one more over, keeping the Power Surge in mind. He explained that it was important to take advantage of the short boundaries at that time, and that is why he did not take the single. Babar was at the crease at that time, having scored 47 runs off 38 balls. After three dot balls in Chris Green's over, Babar tried to take a run on the last ball, but Smith clearly refused. Immediately after this, Smith justified his decision. During the Power Surge, he hit four consecutive sixes in Ryan Hadley's over, scoring a total of 32 runs.

Ajinkya Rahane pulls out of remaining Ranji Trophy matches due to personal reasons

Agency, New Delhi

Mumbai's experienced batsman Ajinkya Rahane will not be seen playing for Mumbai in the remaining matches of this season's Ranji Trophy. Rahane has informed the Mumbai Cricket Association (MCA) that he will not be participating in the remaining two league matches of this season due to personal reasons. Mumbai will play its next two league matches, the first against Hyderabad from January 22 to 25 and the second against Delhi from January 29 to February 1 at the MCA-BKC Ground. According to a report in an English newspaper, Rahane has clarified that he will not be available for the remaining red-ball matches of this season. The team for the Hyderabad match is yet to be announced. Rahane has been representing Mumbai for the last two seasons but has not played for India since July 2023. His performance in this Ranji season has been average, with only one century in four matches. The 37-year-old Rahane will be a part of the Kolkata Knight Riders team in the upcoming IPL season. Earlier, he had also relinquished the captaincy of Mumbai, and Shardul Thakur was appointed the new captain. Despite stepping down as captain, Rahane had expressed his commitment to contributing to the team as a player. In the current Ranji Trophy points table, Mumbai is at the top of Group D with 24 points from three wins and two draws in five matches. Now, the team has two league matches remaining, and Rahane's absence will have to be taken into account. Ajinkya Rahane played his last Test match for India against West Indies in 2023. He has scored a total of 5077 runs in 85 Tests, including 12 centuries and 26 half-centuries. Rahane also played in the World Test Championship (WTC) 2023 final, where he scored a total of 135 runs in two innings.

Australian Open 2026: Venus Williams thanks organizers for wildcard, ready to make history

Agency, Melbourne

Seven-time Grand Slam champion Venus Williams has expressed her gratitude to the organizers for being granted a wildcard for the 2026 Australian Open. The 45-year-old American legend will become the oldest female player to compete in the singles main draw with this wildcard. Venus returned to tennis last season after a long 16-month break. She started 2026 at the Auckland Classic, where, despite receiving a wildcard entry, she lost in the first round to world number 53 Magda Linette of Poland. She also received a wildcard at the Hobart International, but was eliminated in the first round against 38-year-old German player Tatjana Maria. This match also became the match with the highest combined age in WTA history. Speaking to reporters at Melbourne Park, Venus said, "It's been five years since I've been here. Time has flown by so quickly. I am incredibly grateful for this opportunity given by Tennis Australia. It's special for me to have the opportunity to play in front of the fans. I have received tremendous support while walking around the city and during the competition. I will try my best to perform at my highest level." There has also been considerable debate this time regarding the allocation of wildcards at the Australian Open. Questions were also raised about domestic star Nick Kyrgios, who eventually withdrew from the men's singles. Kyrgios only completed four singles matches last season and his ranking is outside the top 600. The organizers then also gave a wildcard in the men's singles to 40-year-old former champion Stan Wawrinka. Some fans questioned why Venus Williams, who hasn't won a Grand Slam match since 2021, was given a wildcard instead of an emerging player. However, former Grand Slam champions Andy Roddick and Kim Clijsters strongly voiced their support for Venus. Venus, a two-time finalist at Melbourne Park, will break the record held by Japan's Kimiko Date, who lost in the first round of the Australian Open in 2015 at the age of 44.

Formula 1: Lewis Hamilton to get new race engineer at Ferrari for the 2026 season

Agency, London

Seven-time Formula One world champion Lewis Hamilton will have a new race engineer at Ferrari for the 2026 season. Ferrari announced on Friday that Riccardo Adamo has been moved from his current role and given a new responsibility. According to Ferrari's statement, Riccardo Adamo will now manage the team's driver academy and the testing of previous cars program. The team clarified that Hamilton's new race engineer will be announced in due course. Several reports emerged last season regarding tense radio exchanges between Hamilton and Adamo during Hamilton's first year with Ferrari. However, Hamilton dismissed these speculations, calling them "just noise." In May 2025, Hamilton said, "Do we have disagreements? Yes, like in every relationship. But we work them out. We're both working towards the same goal." Despite this, uncomfortable radio communication between the two continued until the end of the season. The season was one of the most disappointing of Hamilton's career, as the 41-year-old failed to secure a single podium finish throughout the entire season, while his teammate Charles Leclerc achieved several podium finishes. Notably, Riccardo Adamo has previously worked with four-time world champion Sebastian Vettel and Spain's Carlos Sainz at Ferrari. He has been part of the Maranello-based team for the past 11 years. Ferrari is set to launch its new car livery next week.
